

RUN, HAMSTER, RUN! : THE PIECES

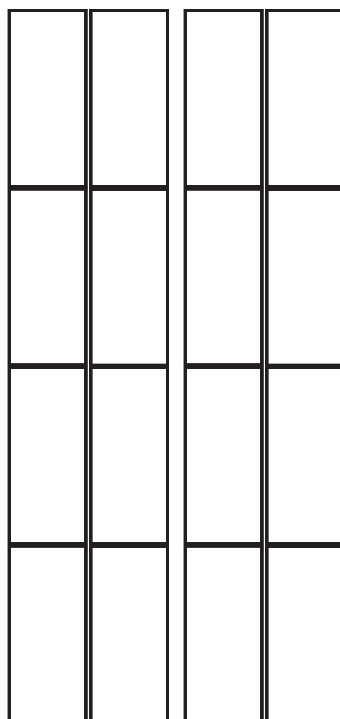

an Invisible City Productions game

▶ hamster pieces. cut these along the solid black lines and fold them along the dotted lines. interlock the slots and you will have a charming little stand-up hamster "avatar."

Major props go out to Sean Tejaratchi, who provided these hamsters via his own personal conduit of fun, Crap Hound.

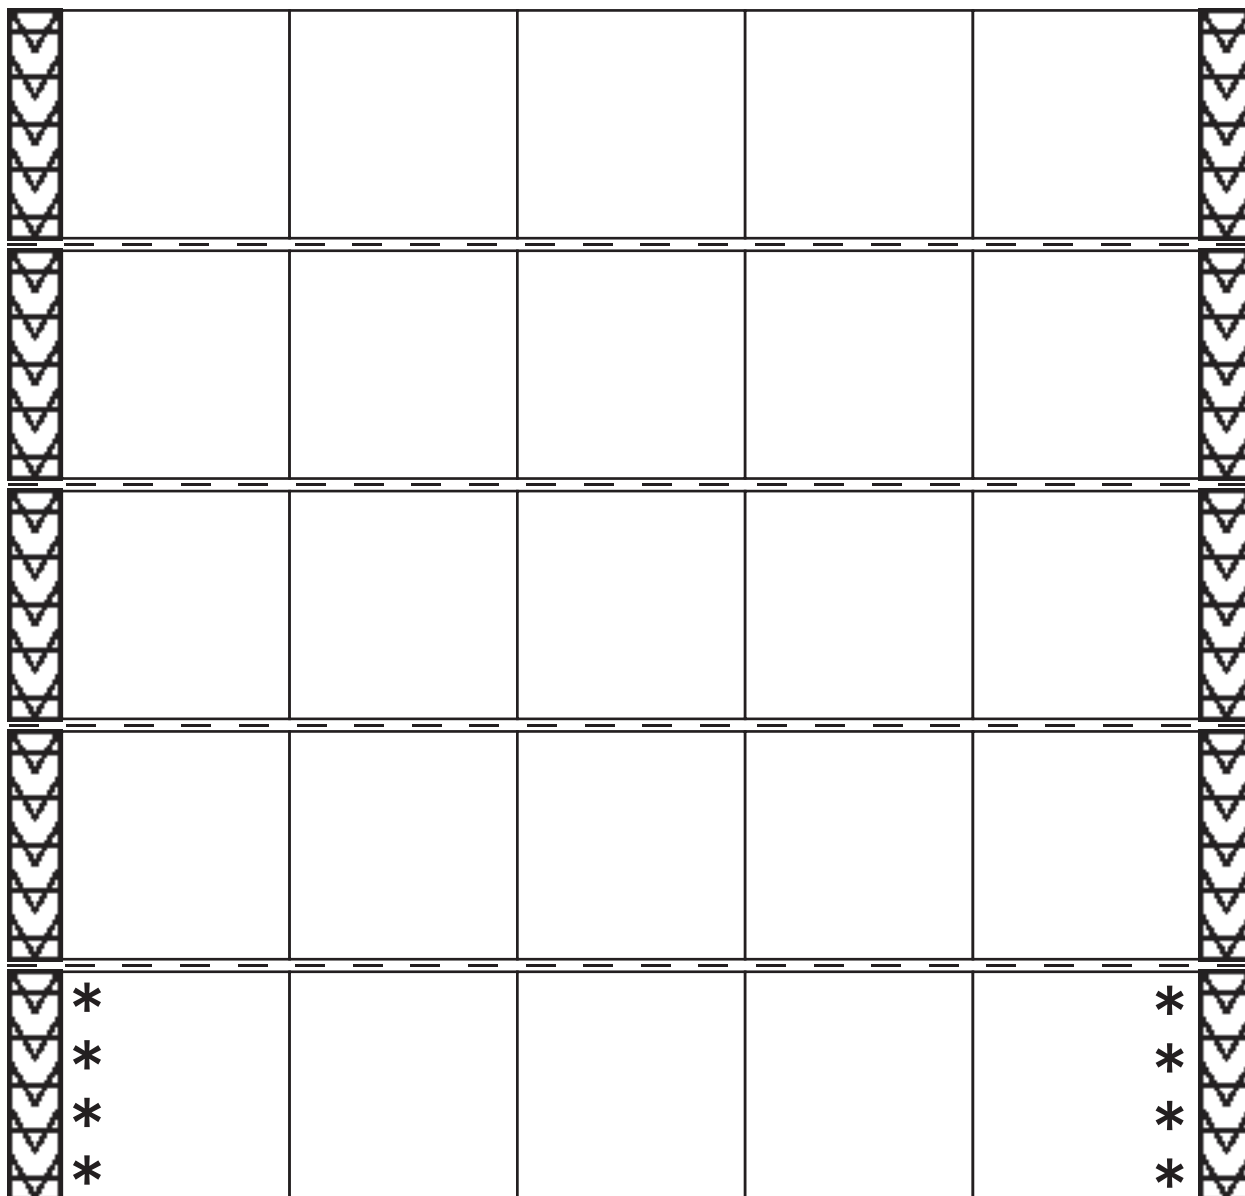

▼ pluck chips. color each group of eight a different color, and then cut them out along the solid black lines

To improve play, glue the Pluck chips to a thin piece of cardboard (try an old cereal box) before cutting. If you use an inkjet printer, use a gluestick or rubber cement, as white glue may cause inkjet printouts to "bleed."

EXPERIMENTAL DATA SHEET
 SPEED POOL 	 SURPLUS ALLIGATORS

▲ experimental data sheet. cut this out and keep it nearby when playing.

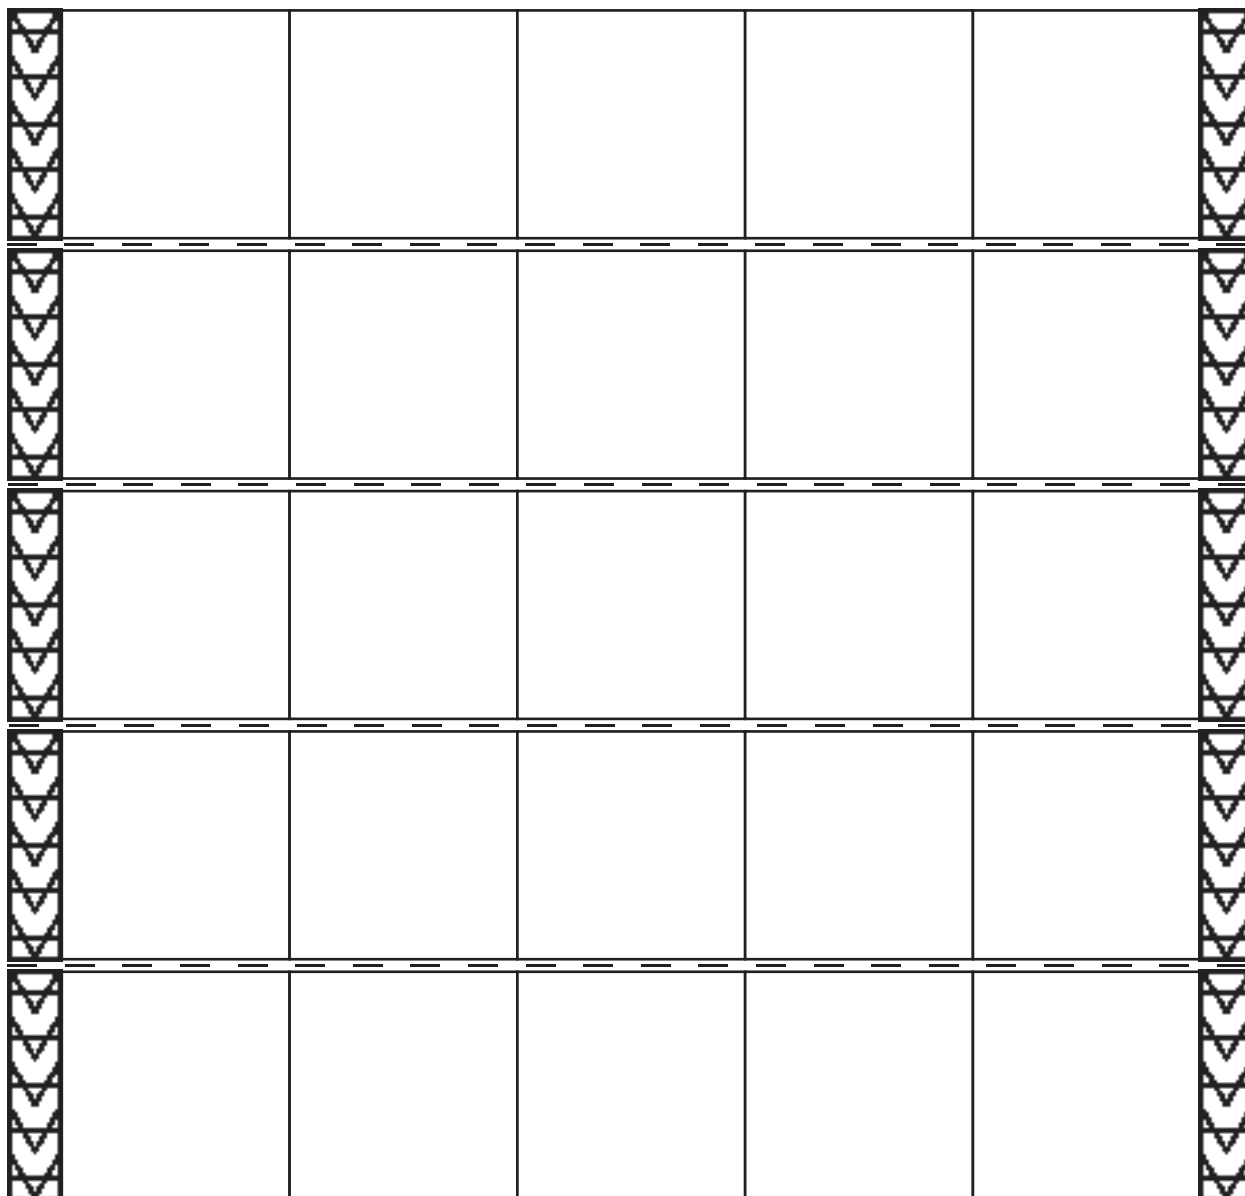

▲ conveyor belt strips. cut these along the dotted lines | ▼ alligator pit strip. cut this out

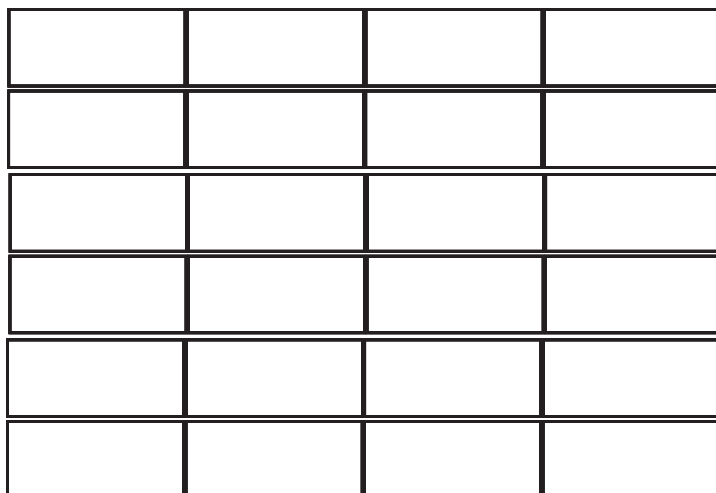

▼ alligator chips. cut these along the solid black lines

- ▲ conveyor belt strips. cut these along the dotted lines
- ▼ pluck chips. color each group of eight a different color, and then cut them out along the solid black lines

To improve play, glue this sheet to a thin piece of cardboard (try an old cereal box) before cutting. If you use an inkjet printer, use a gluestick or rubber cement, as white glue may cause inkjet printouts to "bleed."

Run Hamster Run is ©2000 Invisible City Productions, Inc., Jonathan A. Leistikio, Jeremy P. Bushnell.

Copies of this document may be made by any individual for noncommercial use.

Enjoyed this game? Let us know:
jonathan@invisible-city.com

New games free monthly at <http://www.invisible-city.com/games/>

games | zines | reviews | words | art | noise | DIY
<http://www.invisible-city.com>