

ImagerBatch

The most powerful and reliable batch conversion program

Do you need to archive loan documents, insurance claims, CAD drawings, resumes, marketing or financial reports in a digital format?

ImagerBatch is designed for high volume conversion projects demanding an industrial strength solution. It converts all Windows-based documents to TIFF or PDF ready for your document management system. It is a complete solution reducing production time and costs.

Look at what some of our clients are using it for.

- An international engineering firm converted 40,000 CAD drawings to TIFF and added copyright notices at the same time
- Another added EAR and ITAR compliance text to 25,000 existing design drawings
- A leading construction company converted 60,000 project documents in support of a litigation effort dramatically reducing e-discovery costs
- A major US bank archives all loan documents as they are processed
- A regional insurance company converts and posts claim forms to their document management system
- A New York placement firms converts all resumes received and adds them to their in-house database system
